Primary News

This week the Kindergarten children have started a new topic called 'Day and Night'. They have been sequencing their morning and evening routines and role-playing getting themselves ready for bed and giving a baby a bath. Year 1 and 2, as part of their IPC, have been looking at art in nature. The children have produced some wonderful art out of leaves. In IPC, Year 4 ran through an earthquake drill - 'Drop, Cover and Hold' - in the classroom. Having experienced earthquakes in both Thailand and Indonesia, Ms Linh was happy to share her thoughts on this topic. The students also enjoyed collaborating on a task using marshmallows. The aim was to see who could build the strongest structure to survive an 'earthquake' - it turns out that working with marshmallows was just too tempting for some. Year 5 have moved on to learning about the Vikings, their third and final ancient civilization. They started a research project about one area of the Vikings, such as exploration, homes or religion, which they will present to the class next week. Year 6 have finished the last piece of their art topic for IPC and are now concentrating on consolidating all of their learning, by planning and preparing for their in-school Exit Point on Monday. They've been doing assessments in English and in mathematics have been learning about plotting coordinates on a 4 quadrant grid.
